Branko Buljevic, one of our great Soccerers who played his heart out against East and West Germany this week. Although the Socceroos went down fighting 2 - 0 and 3 - 0 respectively, the Footscray JUST striker played his part in Australia's historic debut into the World Cup finals.

REILLY THE MIGHTY SCOT

SPARE a thought for Jack Reilly, the Socceroos' goalkeeper, when that ball rolled into his net in Hamburg against East Germany early on Saturday morning.

It was the first goal conceded by an Australian team in a World Cup finals match.

Spare a thought for Jack's wife, Jennifer, sitting up on that cold morning with her eyes glued to her TV set in their flat at Middle Park.

And spare a thought for Jack's teammates — especially Col Curran who in a last-second attempt tried to kick the ball out of the goal.

What a let down. Thinking the advancing East German striker was offside the Socceroos stopped but the decision went against them.

From then on all was lost for the Australians. But Reilly still performed like the true champion he is whether with the Socceroos or his State League Club, Hakoah St Kilda.

When the ball careers towards you from 10 metres at more than 85 miles an hour, you move ... and hopefully the right way. A wrong move can be a costly mistake.

There is nobody to back you up, no one to intercept. Just the cold realisation that if you miss the ball it's a goal to the opposition.

And that's exactly what happened to the 28-year-old Reilly in Hamburg.

Jack has played against some of the world's most talented strikers including the great Pele himself.

He was goalie when Australia drew with Santos 2-2 and Pele did not score. He played one of the most fantastic games in Mexico City for Australia against Mexico when we lost 3-0 a few years ago.

The Press there hailed him as one of the best keepers they'd seen on their great Aztec stadium — and remember it was just a few months after the World Cup finals was played in their capital.

Reilly made a great comeback to return to the World Cup team after being dropped in favor of Sydneysider Jim Fraser.

Jack trained every night after his work at a Bourke Street office. He would come home and go out on to Middle Park and sweat it out.

Reilly, a Scot, is a 'Mr Nice Guy' to his fellow players and youngsters. Nothing is too much trouble for him. He'll always give advice to a youngster if he asks.

Victoria is indeed lucky to have such a player. Win or lose, the Socceroos too are indeed lucky to have a keeper of Reilly's calibre in their side.

SLAVIA..... THE TEAM TO BEAT

SIZZLING SLAVIA, two points ahead of their nearest rivals in Rothman's State League, plan to gain two more against Mooroolbark, at Olympia Park, on Saturday.

And the man who says the Prahran side won't be beaten this season is coach Johnny Sanchez, the former Arsenal reserve.

What a fantastic job he's done with the team which finished fourth from the bottom last season.

Sanchez said last week that his side were in great form and improving every week now that Jim Tansey and Steve McCombe have found their form.

Slavia dropped their first point to Hakoah St Kilda at Olympia Park a fortnight ago, but according to Sanchez that would be the last point they'll lose this year.

One of the players who has been starring for the side, is former Swindon Town goalie Mike O'Hara, the most colourful keeper in State League. If only we had a few more players like this chap I'm sure teams would improve their "gates" every week.

He never fails to please with his antics during play. He is a delight to watch and gives real value for money. It beats me why Slavia, the league leaders, haven't got a bigger following with such a colorful character in their side.

Can Mooroolbark return to the winning side as they were at the beginning of the season?

At present all the work is left to captain-coach Brian Edgley. He can't do it all alone and it's time he had some help from Paul Ontong, Alan Pongho and Ian Williamson.

The Barkers have had a bad streak since they lost to Polonia. Lady Luck was not with them when they drew with Footscray JUST on their home ground and the week later in their GTV9 TV debut they lost their first game on Esther Park to Hellas 4-0 in two years!

The Barkers must get out of the rut now otherwise they'll be heading back from where they came — the Metropolitan League.

MELBOURNE have never been so bad. Can they pull one out of the bag and beat top team Hakoah St Kilda at Middle Park on Saturday?

I doubt it. Hakoah have been playing like champions even with out international keeper Jack Reilly. Their only weakness is in attack where all the forward need glasses. They just can't see the goal!

Mike Micevski is a much better player than his present form suggests.

Coach Sam Meyer would be advised to drop him for a game or two to make him earn his way back into the side.

Mike Clarey is also a far better sharpshooter than what we've seen of him in recent games.

He came on in the second half in his last game and created a great impression. But he was weak in the finishing department.

Goals is what the name of the game is all about, and they are just not coming to the Saints these days.

POLONIA should beat Keilor Austria at Footscray Road also on Saturday.

Polonia's coach Mike de Bruyckere has worked wonders with this side since he took over.

Keilor haven't found their true form. They struggle up front where John Webb and brother Barry, are having no luck.

SUNDAY's only League game is at Middle Park where a big crowd should see South Melbourne Hellas pile on pressure to beat Ringwood City.

Hellas have the strongest forward line in Victoria where super stars Jim Armstrong and his teammate Ulysses Kokkinos are running riot with the opposition defences.

These two make a great attacking combination in their No. 13 and Footscray J.U.S.T. v's South Melbourne Hellas. FRONT: Kriaris CENTRE: Lukic REAR: Mracinkewilz and Hellas' Kokkinos.

BELOW: Rujevic and Hellas' John Deparis.

14 shirts. Even if they confuse the public — and their opponents — they are a delight to watch when in possession of the ball.

Kokkinos darts forward like a rocket. If he didn't get tangled up so much with the opposing goalkeeper he would score more goals himself instead of feeding them to Armstrong, who has banged in 10 already this season.

Peter Bourne, too, is a great mid-field player for Hellas, and with John Bedford in the rear alongside Steve Walker, they make up a great side who are heading for championship honors.

Ringwood have won two games and are improving slowly. I can't see them going down but they'll be battling to win this one.

BULJEVIC JUMPS HIGH

VICTORIAN striker Branko Buljevic was a surprise selection in the Australian team for the World Cup opener against East Germany last Saturday.

Although the Socceroos lost 2-0, Buljevic, the Footscray JUST forward, tried hard to break through the German iron curtain which remained like a brick wall in front of the German goal throughout the game.

But it's strange how many former Victorian stars who now play in Sydney's first division who want to return to Melbourne.

Jim Mackay, of Hakoah, is keen to play in Victoria again. HE has been approached to join South Melbourne Hellas and their president, Sam Papasavas has his fingers crossed that the World Cup star midfielder will join his club at the end of the season.

Another World Cup player, Jim Rooney who used to play for Essendon Lions, also is believed to want to return to Victoria.

Buljevic will be a great loss to Victorian soccer but you can't blame him if he accepts. There is no doubt the money in the round-ball game is far better in Sydney than Melbourne.

Branko Buljevic jumps high to head the ball at Olympic Park in a recent game.

TONY CHARLTON, GTV 9 soccer commentator, gave a blast to the Melbourne City Council on Saturday.

Charlton was covering the South Melbourne Hellas-Footscray JUST, Rothmans League game at Schintler Reserve, Footscray Road.

He said the ground was not fit for "a cattle yard".

"What we see here is just not good enough for top-class soccer," he said.

"I direct this statement to the Melbourne City Council who are responsible for this ground.

"It is not fit for sport and certainly not fit for our migrant community," he added.

ON THE BALL WITH JOHN MARTIN

DRAGO KURJAN, 29, was back between the posts for his side, Repco Clayton, after a forced three-month rest due to an injury he suffered while cutting the grass on the Repco ground "Little Wembley" in early March.

Drago stuck his bare foot in the lawn-mower. The solid 6ft. keeper showed against Goodyear that he has lost nothing of his skills, and was one of the best of his team despite the side's narrow loss.

Residents in Camellia Street, Blackburn, have complained about visiting cars being parked as to block their drive-ways as well as empty beer cans being left in the gutter by members of visiting teams of ACI Box Hill.

The principal of Blackburn Tech, Mr Gamble, appeals to all visitors to the ACI ground to park their cars on only one side of the road to avoid danger to children crossing the road. It stands to reason that no empty cans or other rubbish are being left on nature strips and gutters.

Siemens striker Dietmar Mueller is leaving for a two-year overseas stay and will play his last game for the Blues next Sunday against Public Works.

Dietmar will be badly missed, but the gap should be filled with the signing-on of Hakoah whirlwind striker Chris Michalopoulos, whose Permit will be cleared this week.

Ford Falcons displayed a true spirit of sportsmanship prior to last Sunday's game against Siemens.

The Blues, 10-minutes before kick-off, suddenly learned that their complete strip was 12 miles away in the Siemens gate house in Richmond.

Ford, who could have claimed the game, offered their own strip and after a few hectic minutes the game got under way.

LAST weekend's two State League games proved one thing — there will be a neck-and-neck race between Jim Armstrong (Hellas) and Paul Murphy (George Cross) for this season's top goalscorer award.

I like the style of both players. On Saturday against Footscray JUST the Hellas attack were far superior and Armstrong showed who was master in the finishing department.

Armstrong now has a great professional backing him up in Greek super star Ulysses Kokinos. These two are a dangerous pair when in possession.

South Melbourne Hellas supporters can expect many more goals from these two before the season ends — that's for sure.

JUST had little up front without their international Branko Buljevic. They will have to improve to be in the running for this year's championship.

On Sunday I watched a great display by George Cross on the Footscray Road paddock. (How this ground ever got the official blessing of the fixtures and grounds committee beats me!). The facilities are so primitive and all the promises the JUST committee have made about stands, toilets, etc., have never materialised.

I saw the game with Age reporter Vincent Basile. He was back covering soccer after a two years' absence. He said there had been no progress in the game since he left. Too right mate!

But the good news is that George Cross are expecting a new ground

However, Georgie have found a great striker in Paul Murphy — mainly by accident. Paul tells me he's a sweeper — not a striker. All I can say if this is the way Paul sweeps in his goals — a hat-trick against Keilor on Sunday — then keep it up.

The battle between Armstrong and Murphy for top scorer is certainly going to be interesting this year. I'm not a betting man but if I was I certainly wouldn't like to lay odds on who'll take the honors.

This is how they stand — Jim Armstrong (Hellas) 10, Paul Murphy (George Cross) 9 Ian Gibson (Fitzroy), Duncan Cummings (Melbourne), Joe Palinkas (Melbourne), Brian Edgley (Mooroolbark) 4. Dockerty Cup goals

don't count in the State League goalscorers' competitions.

SOCCER WEEK

FOUR cars of police were called to Essendon Lions' ground last Saturday after the First Division match against Altona City.

Referee Andy Keron had beer poured over him and was kicked and punched by angry spectators.

There were no arrests. The culprits jumped the fence and escaped as the boys in blue arrived.

The Victorian Soccer Federation will not tolerate this kind of behaviour, on or off the soccer ground, under their control in this state.

The disqualification, for life, of the great club Croatia in 1972 should have served as a lesson to all those hooligans who think they know more about the game than the paid professional referee.

Whether you agree with the referee's decision or not, remember that he has studied the rules over a period of years. He has gone through a severe test with the Victorian Referees Association and he would not be on the ground with a whistle if he didn't know his job.

The golden rule for soccer fans during this World Cup year — and for any other year for that matter — is to be a sport. Don't disgrace yourself — or your club — by acting like an animal because your team lost and taking it out on the referee.

Play the game. Be proud to be a soccer fan. And most of all, set an example to others by keeping the game clean on and off the field.

THE LIVE match on GTV9 on Saturday will be George Cross v Fitzroy United, at Olympic Park.

It's good to see the VSF have begun to think positive by putting quality games on the telly instead of some of the second-rate stuff we've been seeing in past weeks.

GTV9 directors — and Tony Charlton the compere — must be delighted with the move and the progress. All the moans and groans from club men about gates being down must be shelved until next season.

TV will certainly pay off next year when all clubs will reap the benefits.

Look for more goals from George Cross, striker Paul Murphy and Fitzroy's Ian Gibson in this game, which will be a thriller. And it could go either way.

A draw would be a good result here.

ALL those people who phoned ABV2 and complained about the East Germany-Australia World Cup game because the two teams wore the same colors should have directed their complaints to FIFA, the world soccer body.

People watching black and white TV could not distinguish between the two teams. It was a different story in most other countries where they have color television of course.

Australia wore yellow shirts and dark green shorts, and East Germany white shirts and dark shorts. They appeared as the same colors on our screens.

The European television network asked FIFA before the game for a change of shirts by one side, but FIFA ruled against it.

THEY used to call Jimmy Rooney the quiet man of soccer but in less than 12 months he became a "big noise" in the Victorian game.

Scot Jimmy, 27, joined State League side Lions in 1968 and soon set the experts and fans talking.

His natural ball-playing ability and keen positional sense put him among the State's top inside forwards — and won him the Argus medal as best and fairest in his first season.

Jimmy was chosen for the Victorian squad and eventually the Australian him: 11 so it was no wonder he was snapped up by top NSW club Apia.

HAIRMAN Michael Weinstein, the brain and financial wizard of the Victorian Soccer Federation, received an invitation from Polish first division club, LKS, to visit his home town Lodz on the way back from the World Cup finals in Munich.

famous Polish goalkeeper and three other regulars of the Polish national team which is playing in the World Cup finals in West Germany, will be in the LKS team.

Who said that Manchester United is finished after being relegated to English second division? They were relegated three times in 1922, 1931 and 1937 and each time they bounced back.

The name FIFA may sound strange to many soccer fans. FIFA which in French is Federation International De Football Association is the governing body of world soccer. Founded in 1904 by even European countries it now controls 140 national soccer associations.

Vic Janczyk, the former Polonia and Victoria star, has settled in the Polish capital, Warsaw. Rumors that he may come back to Melbourne are not true.

Uruguay, recently beaten by the Socceroos, were hosts to the first World Cup finals in 1930 known at that time as the Jules Rimet Trophy. They beat Argentina in the final game 4-2.

Ajax Amsterdam, the famous Dutch soccer club is celebrating its 74th birthday this year. Ajax won the national title 16 times in 1918, 1919, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1937, 1939, 1947, 1957, 1960, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1970, 1972 and 1973. They also won the Dutch Cup competition seven times in 1917, 1943, 1961, 1967, 1971 and 1972 and the European Cup three times in 1971, 1972 and 1973.

LKS-Lodz, one of the top Polish first division teams will tour Australia in January next year.

SOCCER GOSSIP

FRANK Micic, veteran Footscray JUST Player who has played more than 500 games for his team in State League, believes Hellas and George Cross are the two sides to beat for the championship.

He said this on GVT9's Live Soccer show on Saturday afternoon.

Frank who came to Australia 15 years ago has given sterling service to JUST as well as Victoria having represented his State in 50 matches.

ULYSSES KOKKINOS paid his way for Hellas on Saturday when he made the first goal for his team against JUST. The Greek super star fed Jim Armstrong, who scored the goal which was his 9th for the season. The combination — Kokkinos-Armstrong — will be hard to beat this year.

Fitzroy United Alexander will be sorry they parted with him to Hellas last month. Kokkinos was their top scorer in the Night Cup series early this year.

NORM HOBSON, is still recovering from a cartilage operation following his first game for Mooroolbark two weeks ago.

BILLY VOJTEK, the former International and Victorian star winger, will make his first appearance for Juventus in Rothmans State League next weekend.

His appearance is expected to bring back the thousands of Croatian soccer followers to soccer who have been sadly missing from the sport since their team was suspended for life in 1972 when spectators ran on to Olympic Park.

LEN STONE, the Melbourne-based soccer writer for the Sunday Telegraph, used to play professional soccer for English clubs Reading and Fulham.

JIM ARMSTRONG, South Melbourne Hellas international striker, continues to wear No. 13 and teammate Ulysses Kokkinos wears No. 14.

Both numbers do nothing to the Hellas team apart from confuse the public week in and week out.

The idea stems from Hellas coach Johnny Margaretis who should know better, having taken his FA coaching degree in England, where sanity rules the soccer field.

It appears Johnny thinks these numbers baffle the opposition. Take it from me Johnny, they confuse nobody but the new fans who are flocking to the game every week thanks to the great efforts by GTV9 and their commentators Tony Charlton and Frank Weimper.

SYD BEST, secretary of Waverley club, said yesterday he has more than 1000 boys in Waverley on the waiting list to play soccer.

Big problem is a lack of grounds in the district.

GEORGE WALLACE, Victorian Soccer Federation secretary, told members of the Metropolitan League at their half yearly League meeting during the week, that it wouldn't be long before the news media would be begging for news from them with the introduction of Vernons soccer pools in October.

Club delegates complained about the lack of publicity they received in the daily Press.

Chairman John Collins, endorsed Mr Wallace's remarks.

DONCASTER ROVERS hold a film night at their clubrooms in Mitcham Road, on Wednesday, June 26, at 7.30 p.m. The film "The Great Locomotive Chase" plus cartoons, costs 50c to see. Refreshments available.

MORRIE BUCKNER, who reported soccer for the Melbourne Sun for more than 17 years, has retired. His colleagues presented him with a set of wine glasses on his retirement.

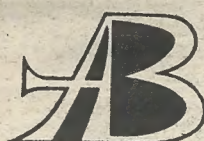

JOHN HOWARTH, the brilliant Mooroolbark winger, was transferred for $600 to second division club Croydon last weekend. Croydon are making a determined bid to win the League title and earn promotion to division one next year.

STEVE RUJEVIC, the Footscray JUST striker, was booked for rough play against Hellas on Saturday.

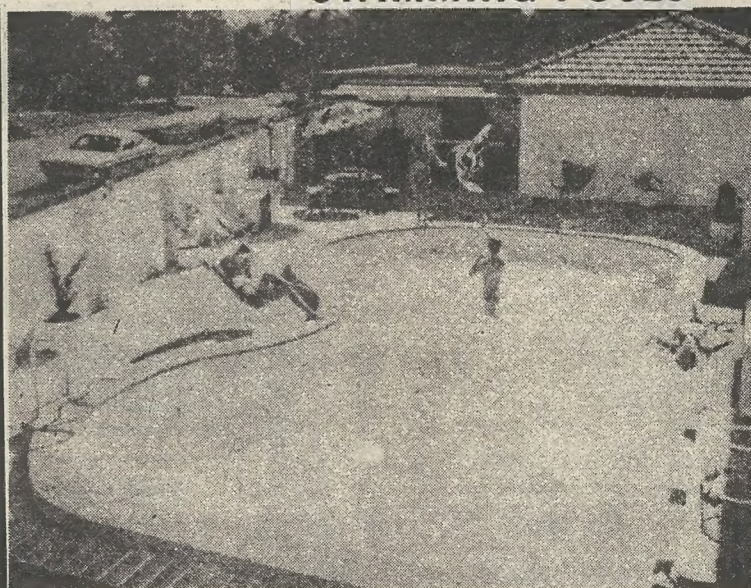

VICTORIAN soccer writers will form an association when they meet at the Riverside Inn, Richmond, next month.

JOHN BEDFORD, one of the longest serving South Melbourne Hellas players, was booked for an infringement against Footscray JUST, at Schinter Reserve, on Saturday.

TEVE KALUS, publicity officer for Hakoah St Kilda, of H and A Textiles, 2nd floor, 145 Russell Street, City, and MSD, Elizabeth Street, City, have just received a big consignment of official World Cup T-shirts from England.

GO TO BLAZERS ...

This week I'd like to write about blazers.

The blazer is definitely the most important fashion accessory of the 70's.

It is a terribly versatile item of clothing, as it can be dressed up with collar and tie, or dressed down with open-neck shirt or roll neck pullover.

At Peter G's we have an enormous range of local and imported blazers in both single and double-breasted models and because we are overstocked these have all been reduced by 10 per cent.

We have single-breasted blazers in wool/terylene from $63; imported "Daks" in pure wool at $80.

These come in plain colors such as navy, brown, black as well as many different colored check combinations.

There is also a magnificent collection of French pure wool jersey double-breasted blazers.

These feature deep side vents and patch pockets and the colors
are navy, black, brown, bone and camel. The price of these superb jackets is now only $90 and at Peter G's, we stock all sizes from 34"

to 50".

Add to the above another range of double-breasted blazers in wool/terylene at only $63, and surely you will agree that we have the best and most reasonably priced collection of blazers in Melbourne.

Our suit sale also continues for one more week, and we can now offer you 3-piece suits in pure wool flannels or window-pane checks for the price of a two-piece model.

These three-piece suits are now prices at only $99 and again we stock all sizes from 34" to 50"
in regular, short and long fittings.

So our advice to you is to suit yourself at Peter G's, or if not go to blazers.
